Are You in the Wireless Product Business? Growing fast?
Looking for the highest possible quality at the lowest possible cost?

That's why the world's fastest-growing brand companies use LitePoint. See for yourself...

Smartphone production, like all wireless product production, is a complicated business and a tradeoff between fast ramps, lower costs and higher quality control. Not anymore. By having production-ready solutions early, and by making it fast and inexpensive to test every radio and underlying standard in a smartphone or other wireless device, you can get to market faster and drive quality "escapes" to near zero while preserving your LitePoint led the way to doing exactly that for WiFi devices; and we're leading the way, again. While you're at MWC, stop by (booth 2J11) and see our new IQxstream. With multiple innovations and the latest in unique test technologies, the new system delivers unprecedented benefits. Come and see one smart tester and what it can do for your business.
