

Digitimes Research: Global notebook shipments decline

4.9% in 2Q14

[DIGITIMES, 20140714]

Global notebook shipments dropped 4.9% in the second quarter of 2014, according to Digitimes Research. Despite the end of Windows XP bringing about a surge of notebook orders, panels and some key components were in limited supply, and demand in China and South and Central America was down, resulting in the sequential decline.
